Cameron was 35 years old when Temple was born. Since our neighbor city is celebrating its 65th birthday, congratulations are in order. Temple is due more than just a few words of commendation. From a mud flat the city has grown to 20 thousand in 65 years. It was established in 1881 when the Santa Fe rails were laid out of Milam into Bell. What Temple business men did with their opportunities is in large measure what Cameron failed to do. For Cameron was first offered the Santa Fe shops. In those days the railroad wanted that section of the city where the central parks are located and beyond west. The old settlers thought too much of the land and too little of the industrial possibilities and the net result was that the shops were built in Temple. An old tale that persists is that trains made too much noise and therefore they didn't think the city should be stirred by strange noises. Temple has 322 retail stores, 129 service establishments, 28 wholesole houses and 25 manufacturing plants. Temple is known as the hospital center of the south. Congratulations are due any city whose leaders have vision.

Good morning, sucker! (It's 6 a. m.) Since midnight there has existed no official price control. Congress had a price and that price was business and the discount is the ignorance of the American people. We will be deluged with predictions. The difficulty will be to wade out of the vortex with something tangible. Today every man is a robber if he chooses to be. Many will be honest but many more will not be. Grave days lie ahead for the millions who cannot speak nor have defense, for they must eat, be clothed and have a roof over their heads. For a year or more stocks have been piling up. During the war the average man built up a savings. The late Franklin Roosevelt called them Economic Royalists. They believe in the system of Free Enterprise so strong they don't trust the little guy with a few hundred dollars. They want him to go back to installment buying and high interest rates. So this morning the thing we hoped would not happen is 6 hours old. All around town there are smart ones with a few hundred dollars in the bank and a shirt tail full of merchandise. They have heard it said that OPA is bad and if we can get rid of price control merchandise will roll in. The pissants are marching to the sugar bowl today, but they are the big ones. Yes, you cursed our lot under OPA. You cursed Roosevelt and have been causing Truman a bit of worry too. You are smart. You think our Congressman is a statesman. You wanted it this way. You have it. Strikes? If bread sells for a dollar a loaf the working man will stay of the job and help you make that extra profit. Robert Quillan said it was wise to so live so that your neighbor would smile on you and your grocer would reach under the counter. The stuff can be set out now, for national robbery has been legalized.

The Temple Telegram, careful not to note that Congressman Poage not only voted for the bill the President vetoed but went further to override the veto, has something to say about the repeal of OPA. The Telegram has been warning its readers about the ill consequences of unrestricted prices and as guest editorial today we quote:

Not in any dark hour of the recent war was our danger so great.

Then we fought a foe we could see and feel. Now we fight an unseen foe, deadly and treacherous, dark and evil.

Our government has failed us. Our lawmakers have said, in effect: "We cannot chain this monster Inflation. We must turn him loose and hope that his appetite is satisfied before we are all destroyed."

Our President has refused to sign the weak but hopeful measure our congress produced. His action was honest, and courageous after a fashion, however ill-advised. But his veto of the OPA extension bill made

CONGRESS AUTHORIZES LEON DAM PROJECT

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Water projects to cost two billion dollars probably will be voted by the senate before the summer recess of congress.

The commerce committee approved today flood control legislation proposing expenditure of more than $950,000,000. Navigation works to cost a billion were approved previously. Both bills have passed the house.

The projects involve flood control, navigation, hydroelectric power, irrigation and related works throughout the country. They were designed by the army engineers to assure orderly development of water resources.

The senate committee made changes that will require house concurrence before the flood bill goes to the White House. No projects were climinated from the house bill.

The estimated totals in the bills represent first federal costs. To this must be added maintenance expenses, local contributions and other incidentals that would raise the outlay to well over two billion dollars.

The committee adopted an amendment requiring a 21-day notice to local interests before approval of projects by the army engineers. This stemmed from statements that some people were unaware of projects until they had been approved by either the house or senat.e

The bill requires reservation 69,000 acre feet of water for irrigation at North Canadian reservoir, Okla,, and provides that not more than 45,000 acre feet be available for irrigation on the Leon, Texas area.

MILAM DRAFT BOARDS TO BE CONSOLIDATED

Selective Service Board No. 1 located at Rockdale, will be transferred to Cameron, it has been disclosed in a letter from State Headquarters in Austin to Clyde Franklin in Rockdale.

Mr. Franklin made an effort to get new members for the Board in Rockdale following the resignation of the old board members and was successful only to be told that Washing had announced a new policy that called for consolidation of boards.

All records of the Rockdale Board will be transferred to Cameron. Although there has been no announcement by the local board about the transfer publication has already been given to the merger.

Since hostilities ended need for military man power has become negligible and in addition the available registrants under both the boards is very limited. All selective service will be operated out of Cameron for Milam county.

Lynne Baggett, Universal Studios Star, Cameron Born, Knows Her Horned Toads; Abbott-Costello Couldn't Scare Her With Things Like That

A yearling California horned toad (Phrynosoma blainvillii) ran out of the brush on an outdoor set of Universal's "Time of Their Lives" yesterady.

To save it from being run over by the "ghostmobile" which was tearing up and down the driveway without anyone visible in the driver's seat, an agile grip captured the little animal, which is really a lizard and quite fast on its feet.

It was soon fitted with a silk collar and leash, and for a while Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, whose reputation as comedians is world wide, had fun scaring the girls with litte Horatio, as they named him.

Then they encountered Lynne Baggett, of the supporting cast, and sicked Horatio on her.

Born in Cameron, in Milam county, Miss Baggett said she kept a large colony of horned toads or frogs, as pets when she was a girl.

"But they were different from this one," she said, looking closer at Horatio. "Oh, I know! The spines on their heads were much larger. They were longhorns. Natch."

Then, for the photographer, Miss Baggett modeled Horatio as a living lapel pin.

"That ought to start a new fad, in Texas, anyway," said Costello.

FRIENDS GIVE COVERED WAGON TO BOYCE HOUSE

As a lad, Boyce House—candidate for Lieutenant Governor—rode in a covered wagon over Southwest Texas with his invalid father who was trying to regain his health. Climax of the travels came when Boyce drove the covered wagon up Congress Avenue in Austin as he gazed in awe at the Capitol. Recently, friends presented House with a miniature "prairie schooner" as a memento of those days.

GREEN LIGHT ON RENT AND OTHER NECESSITIES

Rents, foods and clothing were among the vitally necessary items which were expected to feel the first impulse of unrestricted prices as Congress failed the American people and voted to end OPA.

Reaction over the country Monday indicated that profits might run into billions on goods already manufactured and stored against the day that price restrictions would be lifted.

The immediate response was the hiking of rents in the control areas where notices were being mailed to tenants.

President Truman in a courageous stand vetoed the bill passed by Congress which he said was an encouragement to inflation. The alternative was the green light on practically all commodities.

In Cameron and other similar communities the trend in prices will be governed by uptrends on invoices from manufacturers for on the whole stocks have been low since beginning of the war.

A. C. BALHORN DIED ELGIN EARLY MONDAY

A. C. Balhorn, 50, former resident here and brother of William Balhorn, died around 10 a. m. Monday, July 1, at his home in Elgin.

Mr. Balhorn became ill and was taken to his home where he passed away shortly after he had been placed in bed. He was with the Southern Pacific railroad.

Born in Fayette county in 1896 he was partially reared in Cameron. He had lived for a number of years in Rockdale where he was with the railroad company and at one time was with the Southern Pacific in Cameron.

Funeral services were to be held at 5 p. m. at the Phillips & Lucky funeral chapel in Rockdale with Rev. Edward C. Fraim, pastor of the Christian church there, conducting the services.

Interment will be made in the Rockdale cemetery.

Mr. Balhorn was a veteran of World War 1 and a member of the Legion Post at Rockdale. He served overseas with an engineering unit.

Surviving are his widow of Elgin, one daughter, Miss Katherine Balhorn of Galveston; two brothers E. H. Balhorn of Rockdale and W. W. Balhorn of Cameron; three sisters, Mrs. Ray Torbuville, Oklahoma City; Mrs. Ray Humphres of Beaumont and Mrs. Will Gray of Yoakum.

PROSPECTS FOR POULTRY SHOW HERE NEGLIGIBLE

Last year and for some years back the Chamber has been urged to buy and own exhibit coops. Finally the plan has been adopted and the busines men will be asked to buy and pay for them.

The committee set up some weeks ago has not yet found time to make the canvas. It was said Wednesday that these coops can be bought at the factory for $2.70 each.

If and when the coops are bought the city has no place to hold a poultry show, due to the excellent vision and long range planning leaders have been guilty of in the past 20 years or more.

The poultry industry here warrants a major show. Cameron will not be able to give a show of this magnitude because it has no facilities and no plans to build them. The Chamber of Commerce committee will simply take a chance on getting a building that is vacant or borrowing space in the back of somebody's place of business.

Livestock and poultry exhibit buildings should be constructed in Wilson-Ledbetter Park or on other grounds now owned or available to the city. Until an association is set up with a plan to be followed for financing these projects the city has slim prospects of living up to its obligation to the farm areas.

BIKINI ATOM BOMB EXPLOSION IS FIZZLE

Indications were that the atom bomb explosion at Bikini which was arranged to test the power of the new explosive against ships, was disappointing if not a fizzle.

The battleship Nevada was still afloat. This ship was the target vessel. Two transports were sunk and a destroyer capsized.

Several ships were set afire. It was said that the bomb missed the traget somewhat. A blazing ball of fire and smoke rose 50 thousand feet in the air and the heat of 10 thusand suns was loosed by the explosion.

Radioactivity 4 hours after the explosion was about as expected and the bomb explosion was similar in many respects to the one that wiped out Nagasaki in Japan.

73 DEAD IN WAR FROM MILAM LIST DISCLOSES

Milam county dead in World War II number 73, according to the official Honor List just released by the War Department and received by The Herald Friday morning.

Posibility of error is admitted. In checking the list hurriedly it was noted that names of known dead are missing. It is possible that these men enlisted from another county as the preamble to the report indicates this was the policy in preparing the roll.

Two names not shown on the official list are James Shuemate, with the Marine Cammandos and killed on New Georgia Island in the Pacific, and James Ray Dodson, lost at sea when the submarine Grayback was sunk; also Wm. Jeter Newton lost at sea off Iwo Jima when his aircraft carrier was sunk.

Whether the five men from Cameron lost in the Gulf from German submarine warfare are listed as battle dead could not be determined on short notice. They were Jack Pond, J. R. Isbell, Woodrow Ermis, Max Schwinger and Elmer Schwinger.

Further examination of the report does not disclose the names of known dead who may have been listed from another county.

The Herald will publish the name, serial number, rank and how they were lost, listing each man on the Honor List as soon as space is availalbe. Parents or relatives of those whose names are missing will be asked to send in their names. Records of the War Deparament should be corrected.

Aunt Ada Brewster, Batte Family Slave Girl in '63 Died at Home in Milano; Was Born at Capt. Batte Homestead Near Cameron of Slave Mother

Aunt Ada Brewster, born a slave child on the homestead of the late Captain G. A. Batte and given to R. L. Batte by her mother, also a slave, died at her home near Milano on Wednesday night and was buried there on Thursday, June 27.

The late Captain G. A. Batte was the father of R. L. Batte, Sr., in Cameron. The old homestead is located one and a half miles northeast of Cameron.

It was on the old home place that Ada Brewster was born in 1863. Her mother, a slave woman, was the body servant of Mrs. G. A. Batte, the mother of R. L. Batte.

When Aunt Ada was born she was given to Mr. Batte by the mother and was Mr. Batte's slave. Born during the Civil War she was freed along with her mother by Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation and the family then moved to the Brazos bottoms. For the past 50 years Aunt Ada had lived at Milano. She was 83 when she died.

Mr. Batte, upon learning that Aunt Ada had passed away said: "For the past 50 years she had lived around Milano and was a good, useful citizen and liked by everybody. Aunt Ada was the last of 41 slaves who were turned loose by the Batte family at the end of the Civil War."

Eisenhower Report On War Now Available to People at $1.00 Copy

General Eisenhower's forceful report as supreme commander to the allied chiefs of staff will be available to the public in printed form, the Government Printing Office announced today.

The report covers the period from D-day to VE-day and is printed on heavy enameled stock with maps in two colors. This official description of the operations in Europe contains 123 pages and is for sale at $1.00 per copy. Orders should be addressed to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

Three decisive battles were listed by General Eisenhower which coupled with Allied teamwork and German mistakes clinched victory in Europe. The three decisive actions were the battle of Normandy, the battle of the Falaise pocket, and the battles west of the Rhine.

As a specimen of printing, the Report is one of the best jobs ever produced in the Government Printing Office. The cover stock is heavy antique paper and features the supreme headquarters shield which is printed in five colors.

Big Bendix Boost Brings Back Bacon

In addition to his screen and radio chores, Bill Bendix has now taken on still another activity. He's setting himself up as "America's Most Fervent Booster of Any And Every State That Grows Things Edible, Inc."

The burly star, currently appearing in 20th Century-Fox's new hit, "The Dark Corner," showing Tuesday and Wednesday at the Cameron Theatre, explained his idea when he brought every member of the large cast—Lucille Ball, Clifton Webb, Mark Stevens, Kurt Kreuger, Cathy Downs, and others—a basket of fine Idaho potatoes.

It seems that Bendix mentioned the State of Idaho and its chief product on his air show, "The Life of Riley," and Governor Arnold Williams of Idaho sent Bill a "thank you" wire along with a carload of the choicest Idaho potatoes.

"If I plug one of the States on each of my shows," Bill kidded-on-the-level, "I'm not only performing my patriotic duty, but providing my family with lifetime sustenance without the hazards of shopping."

His role in "The Dark Corner," however, has Bill a bit apprehensive. He appears as a professional killer, and hopes it won't be a signal for enthusiastic fans to deluge him with guns, daggers and, mabe, time-bombs.

Experts United In New Sherlock Holmes Series

One of Hollywood's most substantial and interesting fixtures is the Sherlock Holmes movie unit at Universal Studio. This unit, or group of performers and technicians, was assembled for the express purpose of continuing, on the screen, the adventures of the great detective. The now famous films, based on the original Conan Doyle characters, have become outstanding picture events for audiences wherever movies are shown. Latest of the series is "Pursuit To Algiers" which comes Thursday to the Milam Theatre.

Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce, portraying Sherlock and his colleague Dr. Watson, respectively, have had the same roles in all of the Holmes productions. In the new film they outwit a gang of international crooks who seek to control the throne of an imaginary European kingdom.

Roy William Neill, the director-producer, and others of the permanent technical staff responsible for previous Sherlock Holmes pictures, were united again with Rathbone and Bruce for the current adventure. In the supporting cast are Marjorie Riordan, John Abbott, Martin Kosleck, Gerald Hamer and Rosalind Ivan.

L. C. Angell of Belmena was in Cameron Tuesday.

Mrs. B. Hooks and son, Billy, visited in the J. A. Cryer home recently. They live at Mullins.

INFLATION VOTED BY CONGRESS IN OPA BILL

WASHINGTON, June 28. — Congress passed the compromise OPA bill today and Chester Bowles resigned with a fervent plea to President Truman to veto it as certain to lead to an inflationary boom and a bust.

These events occurred within three hectic hours:

1. The OPA bill, extending a measure of price control for another year but opening the way for widespread price increases, passde the senate, 47 to 23.

2. The White House made public a letter from the National Wage Stabilization Board declaring the bill would inevitably lead to "uncontrolled inflation."

3. The resignation of Bowles as stabilization director, effective July 10, was made public at the White House. Written before the senate acted, it urged a veto of the bill on the ground that "it would only serve to legalize inflation" and bring on ultimate "collapse". With all price controls due to expire at midnight Sunday unless an extension bill is enacted, Bowles expressed the hope that congress would yet provide "the legislation which is essestial if we are to maintain a stable economy."

4. Mr. Truman replied that Bowles' resignation was "emphatic answer to the fantastic charge of spokesman for selfish interests that you sought extension of the price control bill in order to perpetuate yourself in office." Mr. Truman said "we shall continue the battle against inflation with every weapon at our disposal," but did not state whether he would sign or veto the bill.

At the White House during the evening were Justice Samuel I. Rosenman, who often helps the president with speeches, and J. Leonard Reinsch, the president's radio advisor. There was on announcement immediately, however, of any plan for a presidential broadcast.

The letter from the wage stabilization board was signed by all its members, representing public, labor and industry. It urged Mr. Truman to call in spokesmen for industry, labor and agriculture to discuss the OPA bill's effects before taking action on it.

Only Two Premiums Required to Restore Veteran's Insurance

Grady Sharp, Regional Insurance Officer for the Veterans Administration, has issued the following statement relative to re-instatement of insurance:

" A number of veterans who failed to continue premium payments on their National Service Life Insurance after discharge from military service are of the opinion that in order to get back (reinstate) their policy they must pay all premiums they have missed.

"Such is not the case. A veteran does not have to pay all back premiums.

"The cost to the veteran of putting a National Service Life Insurance term policy back in force is only two premiums. For example, if the veteran was paying $6.50 per month, but hadn't paid a premium for nine months, all he would have to pay to get back his policy would be $13.00. If he did not wish to reinstate the full ten thousand dollars of his policy, he would have to pay two premiums only on the amount to be be reinstated, that is, if he was paying $6.50 for ten thousand and wished to reinstate only five thousand, the total cost would be $6.50, two premiums of $3.25 each. After reinstating five thousand dollars his monthly premium would be $3.25.

"Not only does he not have to pay all back premiums, but in addition, no physical examination is required provided he makes application for reinstatement before January 1, 1947."

The Clock Turned Back In Lum and Abner Film

For the first time Lum and Abner appears as young men and old men alternately on the screen in the Jack Wm. Votion Production, "Partners in Time," coming to the Cameron Theatre Thursday and Friday.

Director William Nigh agreed that the stars, Chester Lauck and Norris Goff, could use their natural voices for those of the young Lum and Abner, and that their real life youthfulness was well adapted to the 1904 clothes and haircuts of the early sequences of the comedy.

However, during the filming, the stars would speak a line as the young men instead of the old men or vice versa, forgetting for the moment whether they were dressed as the youthful Lum and Abner of the old fellows. Movement and timisg proved another problem, for the speed of the young and the slow deliberate movements of the older men had to be watched carefully.

Lum and Abner appear in the beginning and ending of the story in their usual characterization of "old boys," which is paced a bit slower than the major portion of e story, showing young Lum and Abner dancing and singing at an old-fashioned box social, riding the town's only fire engine, speeding down the main street at 15 miles an hour in a brand ne wFlanders automobile, and carrying on romances with Elizabeth Meadows and Spinster Abigail.

no real difference. The bill was too weak.

Congress believed that the weak bill was desired by the American people. If that is true, we deserve whatever happens now.

As of today, we stand almost naked against this force that can destroy the proudest nation this earth has ever seen.

Only the individual intellignce and restraint—guts, in the good old American vernacular—of the American people can save us.

If we cheer the monster on his ravening way by paying inflated prices—and charging inflated prices—we will wreck our economy as surely as the sun rises. And as surely as the sun sets, the final result for our beloved Republic will be a choice between a vicious police state and a hopeless communistic state. History underlines that statement.

And if America cracks—well, it is sickening to contemplate the fate of the rest of the world.

The atomic bomb is a firecracker compared to the destruction that Inflation can bring.

The responsibility is on you, and me. Every American who buys at Inflation prices, or sells at Inflation prices, is sticking his head in the noose that can choke the life out of our country.

Certainly you and I can do something about it. We can refuse to raise our rent, and refuse to pay increased rents. We can eat vegetables if meat is too high. We can wear last year's clothes or 1941 clothes if we must. We can drive our old cars, or walk if we must.

All these things are far better than joining the fat and slimy ones who are chuckling today and rubbing their soft hands in anticipation of the "killing" they have been working and lobbying for.

With God's help, we can call on the spirit that made our nation strong to sustain us in this crisis. If we fail, America can collapse like a bursting bubble.

If we fight the good fight, and win, a glorious future lies before us.

Tuneful Thrills Fill Western at Milam

Wakely sings a number of western hits, harmoniously aided by Wesley Tuttle and His Texas Stars, against a background of murder, intrigue and romance. Jimmy and "Dusty" James are members of White's medicine show when the trio stumble upon murder victims at a lonely ranch house. There's a baby left alone in the house, and the "boys" take it upon themselves to solve the mystery, which deepens when they report the incident to the sheriff. A whole town is under suspicion, with the three heroes in the center of the mess, before peace is finally brought by "Riders of the Dawn."

In the supporting cast are Sarah Padden, Horace Murphy, Phyllis Adair, Jack Baxley, Bob Shelton, Dad Pickard and Arthur Smith. The film was produced and directed by Oliver Drake, based upon Louise Rousseau's original screenplay.

BIKINI ATOMIC BOMB TESTS ARE DUE SUNDAY

KWAJALEIN, Saturday, June 29.—Scientists, army and navy personnel, and news correspondents scattered to their posts of observation today in preparation for the atomic bomb drop over Bikini Lagoon.

Members of the "Operation Crossroads" staff observed, meanwhile, that the bomb might be dropped an hour ahead of schedule—or 20 days later.

Capt. Fitzhugh Lee, atomic task force public relations officer, said the airmen who will make the drop may not have to make the three trial runs previously planned. In that case the spectaculer blast might come some time before 9:30 a. m. Monday (4:30 p. m. Sunday, CST.)

Another cross roads staff member predicted that the bomb will fall during the first 20 days of July, even if the weather is unfavorable.

Opinions on what the blast will do were still being expressed.

Lt. Col. Ulysses Sam Nero, bombardier for the late Billy Mitchell in the first tests of air bombs against ships, declared that if the explosion doesn't shake the public into a new realization of air power, "then somebody's asleep."

But Maj. Alexander De Severesky, leading apostle of air power, predicted "damage will be very slight and disappointing."

Big Bendix Boost Brings Back Bacon

In addition to his screen and radio chores, Bill Bendix has now taken on still another activity. He's setting himself up as "America's Most Fervent Booster of Any And Every State That Grows Things Edible, Inc."

The burly star, currently appearing in 20th Century-Fox's new hit, "The Dark Corner," showing Tuesday and Wednesday at the Cameron Theatre, explained his idea when he brought every member of the large cast—Lucille Ball, Clifton Webb, Mark Stevens, Kurt Kreuger, Cathy Downs, and others—a basket of fine Idaho potatoes.

It seems that Bendix mentioned the State of Idaho and its chief product on his air show, "The Life of Riley," and Governor Arnold Williams of Idaho sent Bill a "thank you" wire along with a carload of the choicest Idaho potatoes.

"If I plug one of the States on each of my shows," Bill kidded-on-the-level, "I'm not only performing my patriotic duty, but providing my family with lifetime sustenance without the hazards of shopping."

His role in "The Dark Corner," however, has Bill a bit apprehensive. He appears as a professional killer, and hopes it won't be a signal for enthusiastic fans to deluge him with guns, daggers and, mabe, time-bombs.

Experts United In New Sherlock Holmes Series

One of Hollywood's most substantial and interesting fixtures is the Sherlock Hoimes movie unit at Universal Studio. This unit, or group of performers and technicians, was assembled for the express purpose of continuing, on the screen, the adventures of the great detective. The now famous films, based on the original Conan Doyle characters, have become outstanding picture events for audiences wherever movies are shown. Latest of the series is "Pursuit To Algiers" which comes Thursday to the Milam Theatre.

Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce, portraying Sherlock and his colleague Dr. Watson, respectively, have had the same roles in all of the Holmes productions. In the new film they outwit a gang of international crooks who seek to control the throne of an imaginary European kingdom.

Roy William Neill, the director-producer, and others of the permanent technical staff responsible for previous Sherlock Holmes pictures, were united again with Rathbone and Bruce for the current adventure. In the supporting cast are Marjorie Riordan, John Abbott, Martin Kosleck, Gerald Hamer and Rosalind Ivan.

Mystery Hit Due on Camoren Screen Sat.

The tense and surprise-packing film is said to combine every element of high and absorbing entertainment with a murder that starts a battle between big-town politicians and the police; a baffling mystery that surrounds the disappearance of a corpse that walked right out of the morgue; and the romance of a young police officer who has to book for murder a beautiful blonde he'd much rather kiss.

In her first screen appearance in 22 months during which time she was beating a record path cross-country-and-ocean in entertaining G. I.'s, Carole Landis is seen as Janet Bradley, the daughter of a reform mayoralty candidate, charged with a murder she did not commit. William Gargan portrays a young police lieutenant who is torn between his duty to book Janet for murder on circumstantial evidence and his romantic interest in her.

Billy Roskey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reed Phillips of Caldwell is a patient in the Newton Memorial Hospital.

'Do You Love Me' Due At Cameron Theatre

Hailed as the once in a lifetime, love-time musical romance, "Do You Love Me", 20th Centhury-Fox's brilliant Technicolor hit starring Maureen O'Hara, Dick Haymes and Harry James will be seen at the Cameron Theatre Sunday and Monday.

The song-and-thrill-packed story of a girl who said "Yes" once too often presents Maureen O'Hara as a shy, bespectacled and conservative music school dean who comes to town in search of a guest conductor but becomes "titivated" instead. One thing leads to another when Harry James falls in love with her and Dick Haymes takes the words—and music—right out of his trumpet. With the appearance of Reginald Gardiner as an ingenious Cupid and Richard Gaines as her staid but stubborn fiance, the fast-moving story develops into the screen's wackiest four-sided triangle.

Four new song hits including "I Didn't Mean A Word I said," "Do You Love Me," "Moonlight Propaganda" and "As If I Didn't Have Enough On My Mind" are introduced by Dick Haymes and Harry James and his Music Makers. The film was directed by Gregory Ratoff and produced by George Jessel.

City Has Ordinance Regulating Traffic At Air Park Here

The city has passed an elaborate ordinance governing traffic at the municipal airport.

As yet the field is without air traffic and due to its small size and ill equipment is apt to be inactivated for several years. However, plans are being "rushed" to build a hangar.

So far the field has had no commercial possibilities and was not conceived on a scale large enough to be effective in this regard. Rather was the field brought into existence by a local desire for wings and it will serve these local demands well.

The people voted bonds to buy the air park and to improve it. The city, until recently, had made no effort to spend the money authorized for improvements.

Help the Firemen

The Cameron Volunteer Firemen are confronted with various problems in exercising their duties as firemen in the City of Cameron. All citizens not belonging to the Cameron Fire Department are urgently requested to respond and cooperate in every way possible to this appeal for this support. The members of the fire department are strictly volunteers, sacrificing their time, damaging their clothes in many instances, and endangering their lives, to be of service for the welfare of lives and property in Cameron and its vicinity, and should have your consideration.

Refrain from using your telephone at least ten minutes upon the sound of the siren, because so many citizens not connected with the department, and especially children immediately want to find out where the fire is, thereby causing too much delay to the firemen who are wanting to find out where the fire is, when the telephone operators cannot answer them promptly due to this rush for information about the fire.

We have sufficient firemen who are trained, so don't crowd around a fire, if it becomes necessary, those in charge will call for extra help. Please park your car to the side of the street after the fire truck passes, until the firemen can get a chance to get to the fire and not be delayed by so many cars with citizens who are not firemen, you can not be of any help, but the firemen can. Also park your car at least one block from the fires.

Unless the citizens refrain from parking their cars too close to the fire plugs, action will be taken to impose heavy fines to these parties. This is serious. Failure to reach a fire plug because a car is parked too close, will result in heavy loss by fire by losing too much time to remove a car.

The firemen can only render you a most efficient and prompt service when the citizens of Cameron will give their support by observing these above-mentioned regulations.

RALPH MICHALKA, Fire Chief.

Mystery Hit Due on Camoren Screen Sat.

The tense and surprise-packing film is said to combine every element of high and absorbing entertainment with a murder that starts a battle between big-town politicians and the police; a baffling mystery that surrounds the disappearance of a corpse that walked right out of the morgue; and the romance of a young police officer who has to book for murder a beautiful blonde he'd much rather kiss.

In her first screen appearance in 22 months during which time she was beating a record path cross-country-and-ocean in entertaining G. I.'s, Carole Landis is seen as Janet Bradley, the daughter of a reform mayoralty candidate, charged with a murder she did not commit. William Gargan portrays a young police lieutenant who is torn between his duty to book Janet for murder on circumstantial evidence and his romantic interest in her.
